WALK-ALONG

The Guide Handbook

What SINGAWE Guides commit to, and how a mentorship cycle actually runs.

SINGAWE FOUNDATION NPC · YOUR JOURNEY. OUR COMMITMENT.

What a Guide commits to

A structured relationship, usually monthly contact over a programme cycle, inside our safeguarding framework. Guides are screened, briefed and supported. You are not asked to fund anyone - you are asked to be consistent.

The walk, month by month

- Month 00 - The first conversation: No forms first - a conversation about where your Journeyer is and what is in the way.
- Month 01 - Matched: You are introduced to a Journeyer in or near your field.
- Monthly - The session: One structured hour: progress, obstacles, next steps - written down and followed up.
- Ongoing - The barriers: Transport, data, documents, fees, confidence - named and reduced one by one.
- The door - The opportunity: Your Journeyer applies prepared, not hopeful.
- After - They become a Guide: Journeyers become Torchbearers - the walk continues, in the other direction.

Safeguarding expectations

Contact happens through recorded, accountable channels on a fixed schedule. You will never be asked to meet a Journeyer unsupervised outside of this structure, and any concern you notice should be raised with the Foundation immediately and confidentially.
