FOUNDATION GUIDE

The SINGAWE Foundation Guide

Who we are, what we believe, and how the walk works.

SINGAWE FOUNDATION NPC · YOUR JOURNEY. OUR COMMITMENT.

What SINGAWE means

SINGAWE means "We Are For You." SINGAWE Foundation NPC is a South African Non-Profit Company established under the Companies Act, 2008, operating independently and without political affiliation. We identify talent, remove barriers, and walk alongside individuals through mentorship, education, STEAM, entrepreneurship and leadership.

Our philosophy

Identify potential. Remove barriers. Stay. We believe every individual possesses the potential to achieve meaningful success, and that potential most often stalls at a barrier: information, resources, networks, guidance, confidence. We name those barriers honestly and work to reduce them, rather than creating dependency.

Our language

- Journeyers (formerly Mentees) - The individuals at the centre of our work.
- Guides (formerly Mentors) - Professionals, students and community leaders who walk beside a Journeyer.
- Torchbearers (formerly Alumni) - Journeyers who completed a programme and now open doors for others.
- Stewards (formerly Board & Executive) - Those entrusted with the Foundation's purpose and public trust.
- Companions (formerly Volunteers & Partners) - Schools, businesses and individuals who shorten the journey for everyone.

Our four programmes

- Pathfinder - Access & Awareness: Finding opportunities and preparing the application, not just announcing the deadline.
- Walk-Along - Mentorship: Every Journeyer matched with a Guide for a structured, safeguarded relationship.
- Makers Lab - STEAM & Innovation: Practical science, technology, engineering, arts and mathematics.
- Torch - Leadership Development: Leadership as service, developed through labs and service projects.

Safeguarding, always

Every Guide and representative is screened and briefed before being matched with a Journeyer. Journeyers are never asked to pay for access to mentorship, guidance or opportunity support. Concerns can be raised at any time, in confidence, without affecting a Journeyer's place in a programme.
